This is MEKO – a leader in northern Europe’s auto aftermarket

MEKO is an international corporate group that operates in the automotive aftermarket. We are the market leader in Northern Europe with presence in Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Norway, Sweden, and Poland within wholesale of spare parts and through several well-known brands and workshop concepts. Among them are Mekonomen, BilXtra, MECA, Fixus, Carpeople, Automester, Sørensen og Balchen – and many more. We also export to Germany and the Czech Republic, among other countries.

At the forefront of electric vehicle repair and handling

Cars and other vehicles have a natural place today and tomorrow, even as driving habits change and technology becomes greener. By investing in future mobility, we aim to develop our business and lead a transition in our industry toward greater sustainability. The backbone of our business remains the same: to care for and repair instead of buying new. In many cases, it is better for the environment to repair and service your car than to buy a new one.

We are a driving force in electric vehicle repair and handling, with more than 1,000 workshops possessing high-voltage expertise. We handle all major models and brands, and we educate not only our own technicians but also repairers outside of MEKO.

Long history – aiming to continue for years

The basic idea of caring and repairing has been the same since we were founded in Sweden in 1973. For many years, a significant part of our business was conducted under the name Mekonomen, which still is one of the most well-known brands in Scandinavia. Since then, we have grown significantly both organically and through acquisitions. That is also one of the reasons we changed our name to MEKO in 2022, reflecting our history and broader presence with geographically diverse revenue streams across our eight markets.

Now, we are building an even stronger MEKO. We focus on growth, creating synergies, and driving digital development. Our employees and customized full-service offerings are our greatest assets on the journey ahead, where we aim to continue being the most complete partner for everyone who drives, repairs, and maintains cars in Northern Europe.
